Program Resource Planning Process

Food and Nutrition 2023

1.1a Mission

Mission of Foods and Nutrition Program: To provide students with a general education in nutrition to gain practical and science-based knowledge about the relationship between food and health for preparation for college or university transfer, entrance into profession program in health sciences (including Dietetics), and personal knowledge.

1.1b Mission Alignment

SRJC passionately cultivates learning through the creative, intellectual, physical, social, emotional, aesthetic and ethical development of our diverse community.

We focus on student learning by preparing students for transfer; by providing responsive career and technical education; and by improving students' foundational skills.

We provide a comprehensive range of student development programs and services that support student success and enrich student lives.

We support the economic vitality, social equity and environmental stewardship of our region.

We promote personal and professional growth and cultivate joy at work and in lifelong learning.

We foster critical and reflective civic engagement and thoughtful participation in diverse local and global communities.

We regularly assess, self-reflect, adapt, and continuously improve.

Support Student Success

1.1c Description

The Foods and Nutrition Program provides nutrition and food science courses to fulfill both general education and allied health prerequisite needs. In addition, we have a major in Nutrition & Dietetics that provides transfer requirements to 4-year institutions with clinical dietetic degrees preparing individual for a career as a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist (RDN). Our core courses are FDNT 10 Elementary Nutrition, a general education course, and FDNT 62 Nutrition and Diet Therapy which has been a prerequisite for the Associates Nursing Degree. In addition we have courses in nutrition and physical fitness, introduction to the profession of nutrition, and principles of foods (food science).

We offer courses at both the Santa Rosa and Petaluma campuses. In addition, our course FDNT 10 is required by the Fitness, Nutrition and Health certificate.

1.1d Hours of Office Operation and Service by Location

The Foods and Nutrition program is located in the Race building. For administrative and program questions students and the public should contact the Health Sciences Department Office, Room 4062, William B. Race Building, Santa Rosa Campus or Jill Harrison, program coordinator.

Telephone: (707) 521-6947

Hours: 8:00 am - 5:00 pm

1.2 Program/Unit Context and Environmental Scan

The Foods and Nutrition program is a transfer program for students who want to be Registered Dietetic Nutritionists (RDN). Job demand in the area is stable and there are some changes in the profession next year as the educational requirements for a RDN will now require a masters degree.

The classes in the FDNT program are now offered about 60% online and the rest in person. We have been unable to offer FDNT 75 the last two years due to low enrollment but hope to bring it back in the future.

2.1a Budget Needs

The Foods and Nutrition Program was reassigned to the Health Sciences Department in July 2016. Since the Health Sciences Department works as one large department with the Dean acting as department chair, the Foods and Nutrition program is now managed by a Program Coordinator who oversees the academic scheduling, budget and personnel needs of the program under the pervue of the Dean. The Program Coordinator has been allotted 28% release time for these duties.

The major resources needed by the FDNT program includes:

Faculty support:

1-Faculty within the program are required to complete continuing education to maintain registration with the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (AND). Since one of the FDNT program's goals is to provide undergraduate training for dietetic students planning to persue careers through the AND it is critical that faculty maintain their continuing education requirements that AND mandates. In addition, maintaining ServSafe licensing, a required certificate for the food service industry, is need by faculty teaching in the food service area. This training and licensing renewal cost a minimum of $300 per instructor.

Estimated need for all faculty: $3,300

2-To meet student demand post pandemic, approximately 75% of our FDNT classes are now offered online. To improve student retention and engagement in these classes, our faculty need to be informed about online teaching platforms and techniques. Webinars, courses and certificates in online teaching will help reach this goal. In addition, providing funds in this area will help motivate faculty to improve their online classes. Starting costs would be $500 per instructor.

Estimated need for all faculty: $5,000

2.2d Adequacy and Effectiveness of Staffing

The FDNT program currently has 2 contract faculty and 10 adjunct faculty. We reviewed adjunct applications and conducted screening/interviews in April 2018. At this time there is not a need for additional hiring.

2.5b Analysis of Existing Facilities

- The Foods and Nutrition program moved into the Race Building Room 4075 and will hold some classes there and some in other rooms around campus.

3.1 Academic Quality

The Foods and Nutrition program has continued to offer our courses FDNT 10, FDNT 62, FDNT 70, FDNT 60 in a variety of formats to meet the changing needs and learning styles of students. We offer online, in person, hybrid and new this year, flipped classroom models.

3.2 Student Success and Support

The Foods and Nutrition program have increased support to students by using Open Educational Resources in the FDNT 10 classes. This is a free, online textbook that is accessible to all students. Students have support from the Health Occupation Preparation Education program,(HOPE) and from the tutoring and student support resources on campus.

3.3 Responsiveness to Our Community

See 3.2

3.4 Campus Climate and Culture

The Foods and Nutrition program have added sustainability modules to our FDNT 10 classes to teach students about sustainable food systems and food waste.

4.1a Course Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

A group assessment that involved 10 different faculty members, was completed for three SLO's of FDNT 10 and two SLO's of FDNT 62. Additional assessments were subsequently completed by individual or small groups of faculty over the last year resulting in 100% of the SLOs being assessed at least once for each of these courses. Results of these assessments combined with input from various faculty resulted in completion of a course review and update for FDNT 10, Elementary Nutrition during Spring, 2020.

FDNT 75, Principles of Food, has had ongoing SLO assessments and all SLO were assessed in the Spring 2021. FDNT 60, Nutrition and Physical Fitness has had ongoing SLO assessments and all were assessed in Fall 2021.

Currently 100% of FDNT courses have had one or more course level SLO assessment completed and posted. Results of these assessments are being used to improve effectiveness in the classroom.

4.1b Program Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

The FDNT Program Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this major, the student will be able to:

1. Identify the role of nutrients and healthy food preparations for optimal health and well-being;

2. select appropriate

foods for a healthy diet and disease risk reduction;

3. clearly communicate nutrition concepts in oral and written formats;
4. use critical thinking to analyze and interpret information from various media sources and draw scientifically-based conclusions; and
5. transfer to a four-year program in Nutrition, Dietetics, and/or Food Science

FDNT does not have any accreditation or certification from the state. We are tracking our enrollement and have noted some decreases lately so we are trying to try new ways of teaching such as large lecture classes and online option to increase the numbers.
