

Santa Rosa Junior College

Program Resource Planning Process

Library Services 2016

1.1a Mission

The Santa Rosa Junior College Libraries cultivate dynamic student-centered learning environments designed to foster student success. We create access to quality resources and instruct students in research skills that extend learning, enhance critical thinking, and inspire intellectual discovery.

To fulfill its mission the SRJC Libraries:

- Support SRJC's curriculum by selecting, organizing and maintaining resources necessary for current and emerging instructional programs
- Collaborate with faculty to embed the library into the classroom
- Create virtual gateways to diverse sources of knowledge
- Ensure equal access to library programs and resources for learners across the spectrum of educational level, physical ability and location
- Provide an engaging environment that promotes individual and collaborative learning
- Evaluate resources and services to ensure future readiness vital to student success
- Inspire learners with imaginative uses of technology, spaces and resources that support participation and community engagement

1.1b Mission Alignment

The library mission is strongly aligned with the mission of Santa Rosa Junior College. The SRJC Libraries foster learning and academic excellence by providing critical resources, services, and instruction in direct support of the curriculum across all disciplines at the College. The library contributes to student equity and student retention by providing access to high cost materials with convenient and responsive facilities and services. As a leader in innovative and emerging instructional programs, the library works collaboratively with discipline faculty to provide highly effective instructional services that directly impact student achievement and foster student success.

1.1c Description

The SRJC Libraries support student success and foster academic excellence by providing a complete learning infrastructure that is designed to fully develop student potential and promote academic success. Through varied instructional environments, access to curriculum-based resources and collections, and state-of-the-art learning facilities, students obtain what they need to learn and succeed.

The libraries are the most heavily used instructional spaces at the college. Carefully selected collections of both traditional and rich-media digital materials, plus excellent services are designed to extend learning beyond the library's walls, allow SRJC students to excel at the college and beyond. At the SRJC Libraries, knowledge exploration is central to student learning. Students use leading-edge research tools and a wide array of learning resources to find information in support of their class assignments. An innovative and varied information literacy instruction program supports critical thinking, academic honesty, and academic achievement.

1.1d Hours of Office Operation and Service by Location

The SRJC Libraries provide the only service consistently available to students throughout the day, into the night and over weekends. The libraries are open to students for over 4,500 hours per year, despite reductions in staffing and hours of operation that occurred in the 2011-12 academic year.

1.2 Program/Unit Context and Environmental Scan

Demand for Physical and Digital Library Services is Strong

Despite the economic downturn and subsequent decreased enrollment suffered by the District, demand for physical library services had remained stable. In fact, the SRJC Libraries have 158% more patron traffic than the average gate-count reported by California Community College libraries. In the 2013-14 academic year, the libraries saw a less than 0.05% decline in attendance despite a slow return in student enrollment across the District, as students continued to seek the library as an environment for research, collaboration, study, and learning. The SRJC Libraries are the only service consistently available to students throughout the day, into the night, and over the weekends during Fall, Spring, and Summer terms.

The libraries provide continuous and unfettered access to extensive resources in digital formats so that students may successfully integrate quality information sources into learning assignments from any location and at any time. Student database activity increased by 13% as the library continued to roll out innovative, mobile friendly, adaptive interfaces that allow students to conduct research efficiently without barriers of geography or technology.

Growth in Course Integrated Instruction Trends Upward

Demand by discipline faculty for library instruction sessions in the form of course integrated workshops and orientations continues to rise: at the request of classroom faculty, librarians held an additional 33% more instructional sessions during the 2013-14 academic year. Trend analysis for the 2014-15 academic year indicate further gains in expanding course integrated instruction and discipline faculty collaboration.

Curriculum Integration Supports Student Success

The instructional collections across both libraries is carefully curated to directly and effectively support SRJC curriculum. The library collections contain close to 170,000 print volumes, over 210,000 ebooks, over 300 print periodicals, and 10,000 audio-visual volumes. The SRJC Libraries offer students over 45 online databases that deliver a rich scope of information sources in support of research, including but not limited to full-text and statistical information as well as images, videos, and primary sources. The online databases also provide students, faculty, and staff access to roughly 50,000 full-text journals in curriculum support.

Professional Challenges

The SRJC Libraries have been a leader in community college academic librarianship. The cadre of SRJC librarians have actively published innovations in pedagogy and technology in academic journals and have presented at a host of conferences sharing the leadership of the SRJC libraries in education and learning technology program developments. However, the unrelenting pace of technological change and the increasing need for professional librarians who are both highly trained in information technology as well as information literacy pedagogy presents a daunting challenge for the immediate staffing future for the SRJC Libraries. The librarians engage in dynamic collaboration with faculty across all discipline clusters, directly supporting student achievement through a wide variety of instructional services. At the same time, these librarians manage a highly sophisticated infrastructure of digital research interfaces and information architectures that require specialized skills in web design, relational database management, and integrated systems knowledge. Locating and recruiting faculty librarians with these diverse and highly specialized skill sets is of critical importance as the department anticipates a series of pending retirements.

Fostering Learning and Academic Excellence

The Learning Resources department has been a guiding force in California academic information literacy instruction and curricular integration of academic research. Key accomplishments in the 2014-15 academic year in support of Goal B of the SRJC Strategic Plan include:

Strategy 1: Provide exemplary professional development programs and activities

The SRJC Libraries led a series of technology-in-instruction workshops attended by over 50 faculty who got hands-on practice using resources to enrich student learning through engaging audio and visual information content.

Strategy 2: Support learner-centered environments using modern technology and teaching methodologies.

In partnership with one of the largest information vendors in the US, the SRJC Libraries developed an online instruction tool that allows faculty to directly integrate academic journals and e-books into their online and blended classrooms.

Strategy 3: Integrate academic and student support (assessment, planning, and advisement)

Through strong, collaborative curriculum integration, library instruction reached 9, 307, or 40% of the for-credit SRJC students.

In one academic year, librarians conducted over 260 course integrated instruction sessions, reaching 13 clusters, and providing instruction across 28 disciplines working with 105 instructors

Strategy 5: Increase the number of students who complete and AA/AS degree or transfer within 6 years

The SRJC Libraries increased access for students in financial need, and for first generation students who often enter college with limited knowledge of academic jargon, behaviors, and expectations. Over 42% of students who accessed textbooks through library course reserves were eligible for financial aid; 31% were first generation college attendees.

Strategy 6: Develop strong pathways with industry and educational partners to provide career and college readiness

The department partnered with Petaluma High School to create a college-readiness information literacy (LIR10) class for successful student high school to college transition that will be offered in fall 2015.

The SRJC Libraries hosted an information literacy and student success conference at Doyle Library attended by over 65 faculty librarians from state-wide community colleges to develop effective teaching strategies for diverse student populations.

Strategy 7: Identify and Implement responsive teaching practices that increase learning and success

Faculty librarians collaborated with discipline faculty to expand learning opportunities through the integration of over 100 class-focused research guides directly in support of student assignments.

Strategy 8: Provide innovative education and training services to local business and organizations.

The SRJC Libraries hosted an information discovery conference at Doyle Library attended by over 35 librarians from secondary and tertiary institutions to showcase innovative methodologies of academic research used at SRJC libraries that increase student success in using academic-level resources in coursework.

2.2d Adequacy and Effectiveness of Staffing

ADEQUACY AND EFFECTIVENESS OF STAFFING

Learning Resources will lose a Public Services Librarian in December 2016 due to planned retirement. Because of the timing of this mid-year retirement, the department will need to request backfill hours to cover the missing position for approximately two semesters as a minimum, if the position is granted replacement in the Fall 2016 Faculty Staffing process.

The number of regular faculty librarians is well below national and California recommended faculty staffing levels for an institution of the size of SRJC: according to California community college library standards, SRJC should have 13.5 FTEF library faculty. Learning Resources has 9 FTEF.

A critical Systems Librarian position was given up by the department in 2011 in order to obtain a Public Services Librarian. This is an indication of how vital the Public Services Librarian faculty are in the eyes of the College. The credit-bearing and collaborative course-integrated instruction programs taught by the Public Services Librarians are in high demand. Both provide direct information literacy instruction and research assistance to students and act as critical agents in their successful course completion.

2.3c Faculty Within Retirement Range

FACULTY PROFILES AND PLANNED RETIREMENTS

There are currently 8 full-time regular 10-month faculty librarians and 1 emergency 10-month faculty replacement for 2015-2016 on staff managing the year-round operations and services of the libraries. Of these, 3 faculty librarians are assigned to Mahoney Library, Petaluma Campus and 6 are assigned to Doyle Library, Santa Rosa campus.

The department has 56% of its faculty nearing retirement. Of the current 9 full-time and temporary contract librarians, 4 are age 55 or older; 1 is between the ages of 50 to 54.

Learning Resources will lose one Public Services Librarian in December 2016 due to a planned retirement.

2.3d Analysis of Faculty Staffing Needs and Rationale to Support Requests

FACULTY STAFFING NEEDS

In December 2016 a Public Services Librarian will retire. Public Services Librarians critical to providing direct and immediate academic research and information literacy instruction to students. Direct evidence of the positive academic impact Public Service Librarians have on student achievement is collected by Learning Resources. In a 2015 study, students were offered an opportunity to meet with a Public Services Librarian for a one hour research assistance session to provide assistance with a complex assignment. When comparing grades earned by students who elected to work with a Public Services Librarian against those who did not, 89% of the students who had an individual research tutorial session received an A grade. 56% of students in the group that did not meet meet with a librarian for a one-on-one tutoring session received an A. In the group that did not meet with the Public Services Librarian, 44% received grades lower than the lowest grade earned in the group of students who met with the librarian. Loss of a Public Services Librarian to retirement would directly and negatively impact the critical academic support provided by these faculty.

The College libraries are open 65 hours a week and the Public Services Librarian is often the first point of contact for students in a busy and unfamiliar library system serving over 600,000 students each academic year. The Public Services Librarians work directly with discipline faculty to conduct library instruction to students in the classroom as well as provide for-credit instruction in information literacy. As noted above, the Public Services librarians also provide one-on-one tutorial research sessions with students to support student success in classroom assignments. Each Public Services librarian averages 40 of these individual tutorial sessions a semester, provides an average of 20 course-integrated instruction sessions in collaboration with discipline faculty, and performs 15 student contact hours per week at the reference desk. The Public Services Librarians are also responsible for selection of adequate and appropriate subject materials in the library collections to meet classroom instruction needs and adherence to accreditation standards.

2.3e Faculty Staffing Requests

Rank	Location	SP	M	Discipline	SLO Assessment Rationale
0001	Santa Rosa	02	01	Public Services and Instruction Librarian	Vacant January 2017. Student and instructor demand to provide research and reference instruction to underprepared students both in the physical libraries and in the growing online classroom environment increases every year. Public Services Librarians directly work with and provide instruction to students navigating the complex research environment to help with the successful completion of courses. The library currently has fewer librarians than recommended by CA Ed Code and national standards for public services and instruction for the size of the student body of SRJC.

2.4b Rationale for Instructional and Non-Instructional Equipment, Technology, and Software

INSTRUCTIONAL AND NON-INSTRUCTIONAL REQUESTS

The SRJC Libraries provide a learning environment that facilitates information discovery while delivering robust instruction that bolsters student achievement. At the same time, library programs face an accelerating pace of technological change and demand for increased use of building services and facilities for IT-enabled learning and research. The following needs are anticipated:

1) Instructional Collections for District Libraries. In the 2014/15 academic year, libraries circulated over 98,000 items to students from a robust collection of books, e-books, textbooks, DVDs and streaming videos. In addition, students used library databases to download over 280,000 research articles. The libraries provide academic offerings across print and digital formats and serve all disciplines and academic clusters, with increasing demand for costly e-books, database access and streaming videos. Instructor usage of library materials is on the rise as well, as faculty embrace learning technologies and incorporate streaming media into their lecture content. The library materials request is to meet instructional needs and provide curriculum support across the district and through both libraries, with no increase in request costs from the previous fiscal year IELM allocation. Request: $133,000.

2) Textbook Shelve Expansion (Doyle Library) - Minor Facilities Request. Students rely on the library to provide access to prohibitively high cost textbooks. There is insufficient room at Doyle Library to house the growing textbook collection. The library experienced a 35% increase in checkouts when comparing Spring 2014 and Spring 2015 circulation activity, and currently checks out over 18,890 textbooks to students each semester. The increase in demand for texts has created a storage problem: there is insufficient space to house the growing textbook collection. The planned expansion to the Reserves area will allow the library capacity to house this high demand collection of learning materials. Estimated cost: $6,800.

3) Multi-Disciplinary Learning Commons (Doyle and Mahoney Libraries). SRJC library services continue to shift in focus toward support of learning activities connected with research, information usage, and information creation as part of the learning experience. The transition of library space to include a learning commons is a reflection of this major integration of the library mission into the academic context of the College to emphasize how students use information and support changes in curriculum. Libraries are constantly adapting to meet changing user demands: print periodical collections are waning as students increasingly conduct research for journal articles from library databases. These natural shifts in collection usage and research patterns present an opportunity to transform space in both libraries to meet increasing demands for collaboration zones and adaptable spaces that can be configured for a variety of learning experiences. The learning commons are proposed as modifications to common areas in order to create more shared learning spaces that provide opportunities for innovative information discovery in technology rich environments while respecting the integrity of the libraries as places for quiet study and deep learning. Estimated Cost per Library: $335,329.

4) Student Reading Room Lighting (Mahoney Library). The Reading Room in Mahoney Library on the Petaluma campus has had inadequate lighting since opening day. It was in the building plans but was never installed. Many students use this space annually as one of the only places for quiet study on campus and complaints are regularly received regarding the poor lighting. Cost: $5,000

5) Student Study Area Shades (Mahoney Library). Window shades were part of the original building plan but were never purchased or installed. The sun coming through the windows is strong and causes discomfort to the students who are attempting to conduct research and study in the space affected. In addition, the sun beating in continues to fade the furniture, carpet and library materials. Cost:

6) Art Gallery Upgrades (Mahoney Library). Repeated use of the gallery walls used to display student and faculty art as well as to showcase international traveling exhibits caused the initial gallery walls to fall into disrepair. The immobile metal framed walls could not withstand the repeated reprogramming associated with a highly used and highly trafficked facility. The failing walls were removed in Spring 2015. Replacement walls designed for high volume high programming art gallery use are needed to support art instruction and to foster community engagement. Cost: $15,000. The Gallery also needs better track lighting to allow more flexibility in hanging shows and stand-alone moveable display cases. Cost: $2,000

7) Petaluma College Archives (Mahoney Library). The library maintains the college archives on the Petaluma campus. These archives are of long-term value to the entire community. The current storage location is not adequately setup to maintain the correct temperature and humidity control. Cost: $5,000 (estimate)

2.5b Analysis of Existing Facilities

EXISTING FACILITIES REQUESTS: Doyle and Mahoney Libraries

Deep Cleaning Requirements. The constant and high use of library facilities requires continuous upkeep. Chair loss through breakage and damage is offset by repair efforts, but replacement furniture is needed where repairs are not possible in order to accommodate students in high demand collaborative areas such as group study rooms. At the same time, expected wear and tear of arguably the busiest building on campus requires an ongoing investment in upholstery cleaning and building repair.

High Demand for Collaborative Spaces (Mahoney Library). Shifts in pedagogy are changing student requirements for increase use of shared space in the library. There is increased need for electrification that allows technology enabled study in the libraries.

Building Repair (Doyle Library). The high traffic of the building has caused the degradation of rotunda walls. Protective stripping along the base of the walls is required to prevent further structural erosion.

Student Reading Room Lighting (Mahoney Library). The Reading Room in Mahoney Library on the Petaluma campus has had inadequate lighting since opening day. It was in the building plans but was never installed. Many students use this space annually as one of the only places for quiet study on campus and complaints are regularly received regarding the poor lighting.

Student Study Area Shades (Mahoney Library). Window shades were part of the original building plan but were never purchased or installed. The sun coming through the windows is strong and causes discomfort to the students who are attempting to conduct research and study in the space affected. In addition, the sun beating in continues to fade the furniture, carpet and library materials.

3.1 Develop Financial Resources

3.2 Serve our Diverse Communities

The libraries are committed to staff diversity in terms of physical ability, culture, ethnicity, age, gender, sexual orientation and class. Hiring practices continue to reflect this commitment.

3.3 Cultivate a Healthy Organization

Library faculty and staff are encouraged to take courses and attend training workshops in order to improve their career competency. Several classified staff take Lynda.com courses over the summer months to improve their information technology skills, and the library faculty attend conferences and workshops throughout the year for professional development. Library work is technologically demanding requiring regular professional development to stay current with changes.

3.4 Safety and Emergency Preparedness

The Learning Resources department is recognized as a leader for District safety and emergency preparedness. For example the Mahoney Library Emergency Plan was used as the template for the Petaluma Building Emergency Plans. Library staff are considered experts and are regularly consulted by the Vice President of Petaluma, Facilities Administrators, Environmental Health & Safety, and District Police.

The Libraries have unique needs in an emergency situation. They are large multi-floor facilities, opened day, evening and weekends with varying amounts of staff. The libraries have large numbers of students in them at any given time and the staff do not have a roster of the who the students are.

Injury and Illness Prevention Program (IIPP)

A district email containing the link to the District's Injury and Illness Prevention Program (District Policy 6.8.2 and Procedure 6.8.2P) that is sent to all library employees annually. Additionally, Policy 6.8.2 and Procedure 6.8.2P are reviewed at a subsequent department meeting.

Safety Trainings

The library department requires all staff to attend these safety trainings: Emergency Evacuation Device (Stair Chair), Emergency Equipment Walking Tour, Evacuation Responsibilities, Emergency Evacuation Drills

Additionally staff are encouraged to attend these optional district trainings: First Aid, Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) and Fire Extinguisher Use

Building and Area Safety Coordinators

Mahoney Library

The Building, Building Safety Coordinator (BSC) and Area Safety Coordinators (ASC) program is part of the District's emergency preparedness efforts. The identification of BSCs and ASCs is a task that is rolling out at the component level and has been piloted on the Petaluma Campus.

Area Safety Coordinators (ASC): First Floor David Rau, Second Floor Phyllis Usina and Molly Matheson

Doyle Library

The Santa Rosa Campus developed a thorough safety plan during the 2014-15 academic year. Building Safety Coordinators and Area Safety Coordinators have been identified, and protocols for major anticipated disasters have been developed and communicated to staff.

Building Safety Coordinators (BSC): Dustin Zuckerman, Scott Lipanovich (Backup) Jorge DaCosta

Area Safety Coordinators (ASC): Anne O'Toole, Suvi McGee

The Doyle Library uses the same template for the Emergency Plan as the Mahoney Library. The Doyle Library has four floors and clear evacuation responsibilities have been designated for all staff. The department goal for the next year is to conduct table-top safety exercises and silent evacuation drills at both libraries.

3.5 Establish a Culture of Sustainability

The SRJC Libraries are leaders in sustainable practices. The libraries support several initiatives. The Library website featured a bus ridership campaign and regularly features online eBook and database collections. To encourage student paper use reduction we provide encouragement to students to print using double-sided. We also implemented a Web-based payment option for GoPrint system reduces plastic use (cards) and equipment (electrical savings). Additionally the library fosters leadership skills in our student employees as evidenced by a student employee actively lobbying for additional recycling bins in the library for widescale student use.

Ongoing initiatives have proven to be successful and continue to expand. Over the past few years we have shifted to provide increased online services to improve accessibility to Library resources while simultaneously practicing sustainability.

Library Recycling:

Both libraries are heavily used and generate a high degree of waste that can be recycled. In each library, special bins have been placed throughout the buildings and effort is made to ensure that all waste that can be recycled is captured. Mahoney Library recycles an average of 1,496 gallons of recyclables per week a semester. Doyle Library recycles an average of 4,400 gallons per year.

E-Mail Notification Project:

In spring 2012 a monumental goal was achieved when both SRJC Libraries ceased sending out paper notices for overdue, fines, etc. for library materials. This was a complex project, spearheaded by the Library department's Electronic Services librarian, and involving many staff members in the libraries at both campuses as well as the IT department. The end result is that we are now able to save 12,000 individual sheets of paper (to appreciate this, imagine approximately 4 1/2 FEET of reams of paper stacked up). We continue to expand the use of the e-mail notification project for book overdue fines and fees.

Online Library Guides:

The Libraries subscribe to LibGuides, a online web-based service which facilitates the creation of online library guides where librarians, in collaboration with instructional faculty, create program, course, and assignment-specific library guides for courses across the curriculum plus APA/MLA citation and WOLM guides. LibGuides offer widgets giving direct access to our subscription periodical databases and library catalog. Assignments can be up- and down-loaded through LibGuides, and "how-to" instructions can be posted at point of need. The LibGuides also offer a way to post video, RSS Feeds and many more types of dynamic resources for students to access 24/7 without need for paper, etc.

Spreading the Word on How to Be Sustainable - Professional Development:

In addition to all our concrete actions to eliminate consumption of natural resources, SRJC librarians offer flex activities to instruction faculty that demonstrate how to reduce paper by making use of Learning Management Systems (LMS) such as Canvas to make resources available through course websites, instead of resorting to printed production of handouts, style guides, and photocopies of articles. Through PDA sessions and individual appointments we have shown faculty how to make use of the excellent online resources the libraries own or subscribe to in a manner that puts academic resources needed for student success directly where students can most easily find them - by meeting the students where they are (online, perusing the Internet) we are actively increasing use of SRJC Library resources while reducing unsustainable practices.

4.1a Course Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

Department Culture of Assessment

The Learning Resources Department actively fosters a positive culture of assessment. Time is formally scheduled in department meetings for faculty to share their assessment projects, outcomes, and instructional changes made as a result of their efforts. The Instructional Services librarian holds a series of learning workshops each semester that specifically target new and adjunct faculty members, inviting them to deepen and improve their pedagogical skills and to participate in group assessment projects.

Department On-Going SLO Assessment Plan

Learning Resources offers a single one-unit course which is taught by regular and adjunct faculty (LIR 10). Because only one course is taught, LIR 10 is under a constant cycle of evaluation each semester. The Learning Resources department has implemented the following plan to ensure that a variety of instructors participate in the constant assessment process:

A meeting is held at the beginning of each academic year to:

- 1) review SLO objectives and procedures and,
- 2) identify faculty members to participate in conducting an assessment of one of a sections of LIR 10.

Faculty may select which of the five Student Learning Outcomes they wish to assess, but suggested outcomes are presented to ensure assessment uniformity.

4.1b Program Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

Program Learning Outcomes

The Learning Resources department actively conducts Program Student Learning Outcomes to improve student services at critical service points in the library program. The following Program Learning Outcomes were established by the department during the 2014-15 academic year:

1. The SRJC Libraries provide effective instruction in a wide variety of contexts to support our diverse range of learners and their needs.
2. The SRJC Libraries acquire, provide access, and deliver resources useful to support the needs and enrich the lives of our diverse range of learners.
3. The SRJC Libraries provide a technology infrastructure and services that facilitate successful academic achievement of our diverse range of learners and their needs.
4. The SRJC Libraries provide a welcoming environment and facilities that support our diverse range of learners and their needs.

Program Learning Outcomes Assessment Schedule

The department maintains a continuous cycle of program learning outcome assessment, according to the following schedule:

4.2b Narrative (Optional)

Student Learning Outcome Activity

During the 2015-2016 academic year multiple forms of SLO assessment took place. In 2014, the Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) encouraged college librarians to redesign our approach to information literacy by providing a framework of key concepts that inform college-level information literacy programs. SRJC Libraries is an early adopter of that framework, as several librarians are updating their course materials and pedagogical approach. For the Fall 2015 semester, our instructional coordinator designed a project to assess SLO 4: Evaluate the quality and relevance of information sources. Librarians using the new framework used 2 different rubrics to grade student work in classes at both Santa Rosa and Petaluma. The first tool used a traditional measure while the other measured whether students used a sophisticated and nuanced approach to the evaluation of sources, which is a more advanced skill than our previous set of standards suggested. The results of the assessment project suggest we are still inexperienced with regard to teaching evaluation as a complex set of processes, as the "pass rate" for evaluation of this type was 15% lower than that analyzing traditional evaluation and assessment skills. Our lead instruction librarian hosted a series of workshops in the spring semester to explore these and other instructional issues in depth, and the assessment was also discussed at department meetings.

A second assessment, of SLO 5: Identify several ethical and legal issues related to the use of information was conducted by 2 librarians in the Spring 2016 semester. Both librarians used a quiz to assess student understanding of issues related to plagiarism and citation. The first librarian gave a lecture and led hands-on learning activities covering materials on the topic. In assessing results, this librarian concludes that the assessment tool should be applied closer to the end of the semester so that her students experience more opportunities to incorporate learning into practice prior to taking the assessment. The other librarian utilized the same assessment tool, but administered it at a different point in the course. This librarian identified 2 aspects (paraphrasing and common knowledge) of the SLO which students did not grasp well, and the librarian plans to review and revise course materials on these topics. Both librarians plan to reassess the SLO in accordance with the department's 3 year assessment cycle.

Program Learning Outcome Activity

In the Summer 2015 and Fall 2015 terms, two follow-up assessments of Program Learning Outcome #4 took place. This PLO states "The SRJC Libraries provide a welcoming environment and facilities that support our diverse range of learners and their needs." The initial assessment of this PLO was conducted in Spring 2015, and some background information follows. At that time, only 50% of the group study rooms at the Doyle Library (and only slightly more at Mahoney Library) had white boards for student use, and the libraries had no group study reservation system. We conducted a survey and discovered that in essence, students were wandering around the library searching for available group study rooms which had white boards in them. They expressed frustration at not being able to reserve rooms and it was clear they specifically wanted rooms with white boards. In addition we discovered students were not generally aware they could borrow dry-erase markers, etc., to use in these rooms. Prior to the begin of the Summer 2015 term, we purchased and installed white boards in most of the rooms (the installation was completed by end of Summer term), and implemented a Group Study Reservation System for both libraries.

In the Summer 2015 term and the Fall 2015 semester, the 2 follow-up assessments took place. We asked one additional question in these assessments. The question asks whether students used the new reservation system and for any comments regarding the system, which is an online program for self-reservation of group study rooms. With regard to general room satisfaction, the data indicate an increase in satisfaction with room availability. With regard to furnishings, there is a marked decrease in dissatisfaction regarding availability of whiteboards, but we see an increase in dissatisfaction with availability of media/computers/projector availability in the group study rooms. Issues regarding HVAC persist (the Doyle Library experienced a severe failure of the HVAC in summer and early fall). In response to the new question regarding use of the reservation system, results indicate a high level of satisfaction with the online system.

We continue to gather data from this assessment regarding "what would make these rooms more useful" and will continue to assess responses to respond effectively to needs expressed by students. In addition, we have been gathering data on what classes students are studying for in these rooms, so that we can improve usage by students from departments for which low usage is demonstrated.

5.0 Performance Measures

LIBRARY PERFORMANCE MEASURES

I. LIBRARY IMPACT ON STUDENT EQUITY AND STUDENT RETENTION

The library directly supports student equity and serves diverse student populations. In an analysis of anonymized data drawn from a sample of textbook checkouts from January 20, 2015 through February 10, 2015 the following observations were drawn:

The library reaches a higher concentration of underrepresented students than exists in the college population mix.

Student Equity

	Libraries	College
Latino	36.7%	31.3%
Asian	6.7%	4.5%
African American	5.6%	2.3%
Pacific Islander	0.9%	0.4%

The library directly supports student equity through increased access to educational materials. 42% of students who used library reserves are eligible for financial aid. 31% of students who used library reserves are first generation in their family to go to college.

98,524 items
circulated, including 26,499 textbooks

2015 annual estimated cost of textbooks for average community college student: $1,328

The library gives vital support to students who are unfamiliar with the academic environment. The library provides a supportive, reliable learning environment for many students who are unable to attend school during daytime hours.

II. LIBRARY IMPACT ON ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The library is dedicated to collecting a variety of materials in print and electronic formats and making them available to students in direct support of instruction. Over 700,000 students visited the campus libraries, and nearly 1.5 million visited the library website in pursuit of academic library materials and services. The library offers over 40 databases across a wide range of knowledge areas to actively support the full complement of SRJC instruction. Coupled with over 200,000 e-books, these electronic resources are accessible to students through a state-of-the-art discovery layer available at only select California community colleges. The library also offered a robust, multi-modal instructional program to help novice researchers increase their information literacy skills and become proficient at seeking, evaluating, and incorporating quality academic materials into their assignments. Librarians continued to expand their service to offer point-of-need assistance to students, adding a text messaging service to a dynamic reference program.

III. LIBRARY CURRICULAR INTEGRATION

In the 2013-2014 academic year, the libraries mounted a robust program of online exhibits of e-books, videos, and print books on topics correlated to curriculum areas and newsworthy relevance. Special highlights included collaborations with instructional departments, such as a partnership with the Child Development Department to launch a multimedia exhibition of print, web, video, and art gallery displays of child development resources celebrating the Week of the Young Child. The library values and encourages collaboration with Associated Students initiatives, and hosted a "Save our Seas" environmental awareness exhibition at Doyle Library at the request of the students. This exhibit was correlated with online exhibits of library resources on sustainability and the environment.

5.1 Effective Class Schedule: Course Offerings, Times, Locations, and Delivery Modes (annual)

Library instruction is offered in several modalities including face to face, hybrid, and fully online, answering the needs of multiple student learning styles and the demands of varied student lifestyles. Information literacy instruction occurs in specialized instructional workshops, course integrated instruction sessions, one-on-one research tutoring sessions, and reference desk instruction as library faculty seek to meet student demand for library and research services effectively and successfully.

Effort is made to offer classes scheduled at a variety of times to provide options for full time students as well as those who are working who require evening and weekend courses. In recent years, demand for online instruction has resulted in an increased offering of hybrid and fully online sections. Classes are offered in 6, 9, and 12 week formats, and are scheduled with a variety of start dates so as to maximize their efficacy in allowing students to use the LIR 10 curriculum to assist with the research project assignments they may have in other classes.

The Learning Resources department has been an active participant in interdisciplinary Learning Communities, successfully partnering with Puente and English instructors on both campuses in collaborative instructional initiatives. In addition, the Department has made significant outreach to underserved populations, specifically addressing the needs of non-credit ESL students located at the Southwest Center. During the course of the 2014-15 academic year, the library has increased Southwest center access to electronic resources, expanded print and electronic materials that directly support a range of ESL learning levels, and actively improving library instruction opportunities for this traditionally underrepresented group of students.

5.2a Enrollment Efficiency

Recent District initiatives to increase the number of sections offered caused a decrease in enrollment efficiency. Under-enrollment patterns experienced by the District as a whole are reflected in Learning Resources enrollment for LIR10 as well. The optimal number of sections for Fall and Spring semesters would most likely be around 30 classes a semester.

5.7 Student Access

LIR 10 class enrollment

Students served by ethnicity during the 2015-16 academic year, as provided by the District are as follows:

White	51.1%
Asian	3.6%
Black	2.9%
Hispanic	33.6%
Native American	0.4%
Pacific Islander	0.5%
Filipino	1.0%
Other Non-White	5.9%
Decline to state	1.0%

Gender breakdown of students during the 2015-16 academic year, as provided by the District are as follows:

Male	38.1%
Female	61.2%
Unknown	0.7%

Student Usage of Library Programs and Services

Students served by accessing library facilities, collections, and other resources is more challenging to gauge. In a 3 week sampler of library circulation activity collected in Spring 2015, it was revealed that the library reaches a higher concentration of under-represented populations than is presented in the ethnic mix of the District as a whole. For example, the library checked out textbooks and other high cost instructional materials on reserve for classroom use to students with the following ethnicities:

Latino	36.7%
Asian	6.7%
African American	5.6%

5.8 Curriculum Offered Within Reasonable Time Frame

The department offers LIR10: Introduction to Information Literacy, in various formats and at a variety of times in order to allow students maximum accessibility. LIR10 sections are paired with Learning Communities to provide specialized access to specific populations of students and cohort groups.

LIR 10 is offered at both Santa Rosa and Petaluma every semester and summer session. In response to student demand, additional online and hybrid formats have been consistently added to section offerings.

5.9a Curriculum Responsiveness

LIR 10 curriculum proactively integrates new instructional elements that reflect the rapidly changing technological interfaces students encounter in an academic library. As an example, the department has introduced a series of Guide on the Side interactive tutorials to help students quickly comprehend and use the complex research tools common to academic libraries. The department also introduced a reading list tool that allows students to seamlessly access database materials from directly inside the online learning environment without disruption, facilitating better integration of library resources into the curriculum of any class taught at SRJC. These tools keep the information literacy program dynamic and reflect current pedagogy in the use of active learning instructional strategies.

5.11b Academic Standards

The department actively monitors and adheres to the educational information literacy standards that have been agreed upon and codified by the Association of College and Research Libraries and the American Library Association. This is an active component part of the instructional aim of the Learning Resources department as well as for general Library operations. Our instructional SLOs measure student success and we use results from these assessments to generate conversation about new ways to teach concepts.

The department regularly engages in dialogue with regard to the information literacy standards because of their central nature to successful academic instruction. Instructors and library faculty regularly share information regarding new challenges to information literacy and design curriculum and learning strategies to meet the challenges of a dynamic information-rich environment.

The Learning Resources department has been a guiding force in California academic information literacy instruction and curricular integration of academic research. Faculty librarians regularly publish on information literacy pedagogy in academic literature and present at professional conferences.

6.1 Progress and Accomplishments Since Last Program/Unit Review

Rank	Location	SP	M	Goal	Objective	Time Frame	Progress to Date
0001	ALL	02	01	Maintain library quality through effective faculty and staff job recruitments	Draft recruitment plans that focus on systems, web, electronic services and public services positions.	2015-2016	Two successful faculty recruitments completed: Technical Services Librarian and Electronic Services Librarian finalists identified.
0002	ALL	02	01	Work with the District to procure an instructional materials budget	Provide information resources for appropriate materials to support student learning and instruction	2015-2016	$133,000 requested IELM funds used to support instruction across disciplines and programs at SRJC. Funds were used to purchase print books and periodicals, e-books, e-journals and database subscriptions. In addition, funds were used to acquire streaming media that is increasingly being integrated into online, hybrid, and blended instruction.
0003	ALL	02	01	Cover shortfalls in database subscriptions in 6301.00	Heavily used database costs are no longer sufficiently covered in 6301.00, with an annual budgetary shortfall of 16,100 covered by other materials categories. Shift resources to increase database funding to cover the cost of library databases used across the curriculum.	2015-2016	Additional permanent budget requests from the general fund were not granted. Actions taken: 1) the library cancelled several periodicals and shifted $10,000 in savings to the database budget 2) the library cancelled some database subscriptions to reduce operating costs. Disciplines affected: Mathematics (Statistics courses); Communications, Journalism, and the Humanities.
0004	ALL	02	01	Maintain level of service to students by increasing student workers budget	Increase student worker budget to offset increased costs due to raises in student wages.	2015-2016	Additional funds to offset salary increases were achieved. No new hours were added, but funds to cover wage increases were met.
0005	ALL	04	06	Increase capacity to conduct data curation to manage an increasing array of information resources.	Identify and implement a web-based system to provide access to a large and growing collection of college archives that are provided to the library by several District departments and units.	2015-2016	An inexpensive yet robust web-based online archives service was identified and successfully implemented. SRJC and the community at large are now able to locate and retrieve a growing number of archival materials that are being digitized and made available online.
0006	ALL	02	07	Restructure staffing to provide year round ability to manage library services and operations to students. The library operates in a 12 month capacity to ensure summer session instructional services, but has direct faculty supervisory and technical oversight for 10 months.	Combine never-replaced Systems Librarian with retiring Technical Services Librarian to create a 12-month Manager of Library Technology Systems and Services to provide adequate oversight of library operations.	2015-2016	Although this staffing restructuring plan was approved in concept at the AAC retreat and would represent a cost savings measure, conversion of a 1.5 faculty positions to a single management position was not achieved.
